There have not been many teams in the country more successful than BGSU the last two seasons. In fact, they are one of only six teams (Georgia, Notre Dame, Syracuse, Florida State and Alabama are the others) in Division I-A to win back-to-back bowl games the last two seasons. Trophies from MAC and bowl wins the last two years are featured along with the logo signifying the 75th anniversary of intercollegiate football at BGSU.

The 1993 season is the 75th year of intercollegiate football at Bowling Green State University. On this page and some of the following pages, the history and tradition which the program has built will be captured in pictures. The last 75 years have been split into five 15-year intervals. The period between 1919 and 1933 is covered on this page and page 3. The other years and the pages they are covered on includes: 1934-48 (pages 10-11), 1949-63 (40-41), 1964-78 (52-53), 1979-93 (64-65). Special thanks to former Sports Information Director Don Cunningham, now the curator of the athletic archives office, for his help in securing photos and information for the entire media guide, and especially for his help with the anniversary sections. Also, special thanks to BGSU Archival Collections, Ann Bowers and her staff.

First BGSU football team - 1919

The early teams played some of their home games at the fairgrounds, but more often behind Ridge Street school. The photos above and below show action from a couple of those games played at the early home of the "Normals" until 1927 and the "Falcons" since 1928.

Two members of the BGSU Hall of Fame and their brothers make up this photo. Don and Cliff Stevenson (left side) are join with Chet and Bill Chapman. Cliff Stevenson and Chet Chapman were inducted into the BGSU Hall of Fame in 1967 and 1965, respectively. Chet Chapman was a three-time All-Ohio pick at three different positions.

Although he has accomplished as much as any coach in college football in his first tenure as a head coach, that will not stop Bowling Green State University head coach Gary Blackney from continuing to work as hard as he has in his first two seasons.

Blackney has resurrected a once-proud football program, guiding the Falcons to back-to-back Mid-American Conference titles while going undefeated in league play over the period. This comes on the heels of five straight years when 5-6 was the best record.

The 1993 season will present some new challenges for Blackney and his staff as they look to become only the third team in league history to win three consecutive titles. And there is also the matter of putting their names alone in the record book for the most consecutive wins in league play, which they now jointly hold with Miami (1973-75) at 16 games. Blackney will lead his team against arch-rival Toledo in the league opener this season, looking to add to his list of history-making accomplishments during his short tenure.

In order to three-peat, the Falcons will have to overcome the loss of eight starters on the defensive side of the ball, including the entire secondary, and the loss of one of the top quarterback-wide receiver duos in league history. But, overcoming obstacles in something Blackney, as a coach and person, has grown accustomed to.

All Blackney did, in not only his first season at BGSU but his first season as a collegiate head coach, was take a 3-5-2 team and turn them into a 11-1 squad which won their last 10 games. The Falcons clinched the MAC title with two weeks of the league schedule still remaining, which is believed to be the earliest any team has ever wrapped up the title. The final standings showed BG with a perfect 8-0 mark while the second place team finished at 3-1-4.

The top first-year coach in the country, Blackney was just the fifth coach in MAC history to lead his team to an outright conference title in his first season. He is also the winningest first-year head coach in BGSU history equalling the NCAA record for most wins by a coach in his first season in the top spot. The 11 wins by the 1991 team tied the school record.

For an encore, with the Falcons no longer an unknown as they were in 1991, the 1992 favorites gladly accepted that role and again won the league title with a perfect record. The Falcons earned the right to represent the MAC in the first Las Vegas Bowl and backed up the program's first bowl victory in 1991 over Fresno State in the California Bowl with a thrilling 35-34 win over Nevada in Las Vegas.

Needless to say, the success that

The Blackney File

Full Name: Gary Richard Blackney

Age: 48

Birthdate/Place: December 10, 1944/Astoria, New York

Hometown: Plainview, New York

Height/Weight: 5-8/180

Began at BGSU: December 5, 1990; Record (Yrs.): 21-3 (2)

High School: Plainview High School, '62 - College: Connecticut, '67

Wife: Lauretta

Children: Debbie (26), David (25), Kyle (19), Gary Jr. (15)

The BGSU head coach is a much sought-after speaker during and after the season, having spoken to many community groups throughout the state since taking over as head coach, in addition to speaking at numerous banquets.

Blackney has brought to the program has also meant some prestigious honors along the way.

He became only the second coach in league history to earn Coach of the Year honors in back-to-back seasons earning the award the last two seasons. He has also been named the Coach of the Year in region 3 by his peers, the American Football Coaches Association, the last two seasons. The region included all I-A schools in the states of Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Big Ten member schools Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa. The BGSU mentor was also the 1992 Ohio Coach of the Year.

A little less than three years ago, Blackney realized his dream of becoming a collegiate head coach. He certainly paid his dues serving as an assistant the previous 21 years at such programs as Wisconsin, UCLA, Syracuse and, most recently, Ohio State. The list of coaches he served under ranks among the best in the collegiate game - coaches such as Dick MacPherson, Terry Donahue, Earle Bruce, Rick Forzano and John Cooper.

The Plainview, New York native began his coaching career at his alma mater, Connecticut, in 1968, where he spent two seasons as a graduate assistant on a staff that included, in addition to Forzano, current Notre Dame head coach Lou Holtz, former Cleveland Browns head coach Sam Rutigliano, and Dave Adolph and Dan Sekanovich, both NFL assistant coaches.

That was followed by stops at Brown and Rhode Island, in addition to the aforementioned schools, with all but two of those seasons spent on the defensive side of the ball. Last season was the seventh time in the last nine years Blackney has helped a team to a bowl bid.

His success story is certainly one that makes all people feel thankful.

In March, 1986, Gary's wife, Lauretta, suffered a basilar artery aneurysm which has led to her need for 24-hour care.

Forced to take over the duties of running the household, which were previously handled by Lauretta, Blackney made the necessary changes and still keeps up with the demands of being a head coach and a father.

"I look at Lauretta's situation and know she could call it quits. But she keeps competing to get better and better. If you want to talk about endurance and courage, look at her - not me."

The Ramsey, N.J. native lettered two years in football and hockey at Don Bosco Prep graduating in 1983. He then earned two letters in hockey at William Paterson College while completing his degree work in exercise physiology in 1988.

His football coaching experience includes three years at Don Bosco Prep, one year at Midland Park High School, one year at Ramsey High School and three seasons at Pace University (1989-91).

James is currently doing graduate work in guidance and counseling at BGSU.

He and his wife Maureen live in Bowling Green.

Dean Walendzak

Dean Walendzak begins his second year with the football program. The Oregon, Ohio native assisted with the wide receivers last year.

A 1986 Clay High School graduate, Walendzak served as the defensive coordinator at Tri-County North High School for three seasons (1988-90) while completing work on his undergraduate degree at the University of Dayton. He also did a three-month internship at Youngstown State in 1991.

Walendzak earned his undergraduate degree in sports management from Dayton in 1991 and is currently working toward a graduate degree in sports administration at BGSU.

Coach Robert Whitaker has the longest tenure of any coach in the history of the program. He was the head coach at BGSU for 14 seasons between 1941 and 1954. His 1948 team, pictured at the right giving instructions to, set a school record at the time winning eight games with only a season-ending tie against John Carroll keeping the team from a perfect season.

University Stadium was the home for the Falcon football team from 1923 through 1965. The stadium was located in what is now the middle of campus directly west of the library.

The three players pictured were a good reason the 1948 team compiled the best record in the history of the program to that point. Left to right, end Vern Dunham, fullback Jack Woodland and halfback Max Minnich accounted for 18 touchdowns and 108 of the 230 points scored. Dunham had 11 receptions and two interceptions while scoring seven touchdowns. Woodland led the team with 522 rushing yards while Minnich rushed for 204 yards, passed for another 405 and set a school record, which still stands, intercepting 12 passes. All three earned All-Ohio honors in the 1948 season. Woodland was a three-time All-Ohio selection while Dunham and Minnich were named to the team twice.

Three-peating was certainly the hottest topic of conversation in Chicago and around the NBA as the Bulls played for and won their third world championship to join very elite company in league history.

The same is taking place in Bowling Green and around the Mid-American Conference as people ponder whether the Falcons can accomplish what only two programs in league history have been able to do - win three straight league titles. Also on the line is a 16-game conference winning streak which equals the best in the 45-year history of the league.

But, to accomplish the triple, like most seasons, some obstacles will have to be navigated, the biggest of which is rebuilding a defense which returns only three starters from a year ago.

"The one thing that is positive about the defense is we have quality players returning in Bob Dudley and Clint Frazier and if you only have a few players returning, the defensive line is where you would want them," said head coach Gary Blackney, the American Football Coaches Association Region 3 Coach of the Year the last two seasons. "Our linebacking corp will be relatively inexperienced and we will have four completely new players in the secondary."

The third returning starter on the defensive unit is junior linebacker Vince Palko who has started each of the last two seasons and is the most experienced player returning on the defensive side of the ball.

"Without a doubt, the defense is the big question mark going into the season," Blackney said. "With the youth and inexperience we have on defense, I think it will be very important for us to have the offense carry the load early in the season until the defense can mature and gain some game experience."

But that offense which will be counted on early in the season also has some holes to fill.

Namely one of the best pass-and-catch combinations, quarterback Erik White, the league MVP the last two seasons, and flanker Mark Szlachcic, who set the MAC career reception record, in league history is gone as well as all-around running back LeRoy Smith, who ended his career among the top 10 in school history in rushing and receiving.

Sophomore Ryan Henry is likely to step into the quarterback spot after playing sparingly last year. And while it will take awhile for Henry to "come of age" at the position, Blackney likes his leader.

"Ryan Henry did everything we ask of him during the spring," Blackney said. "He displayed all the physical ability and all the intangibles that a leader and quarterback needs to move a football team."

The offense will be spearheaded by the return of the entire offensive line. After being predominately a passing team for most of the last 10 years, during which BGSU won three MAC titles and finished as the runner-up four times, the 1993 squad may go the land route behind that experienced offensive line while they will also be asked to protect for a young quarterback.

"The offensive line will be the strength of our football team in 1993," Blackney said. "We have all five starters returning from a year ago and each showed improvement during spring drills. If we are going to have a good football team, the offensive line really has to be the foundation."

Despite the shortcomings, Blackney believes the 1993 squad can complete the triple.

"We still have more knowns than unknowns compared to two years ago when I first came here," Blackney said. "We're in a situation where we still have all the intangibles that it takes to win. Many members of this year's squad have learned the type of effort and commitment it takes to be a champion from the squads the last two seasons."

BGSU begins the season Sept. 4 at Virginia Tech before returning home for the opener against Cincinnati. After a game against Navy, BG hosts rival Toledo Oct. 2 for homecoming with a chance to break the MAC record for consecutive wins.

- Offense -

After leading the league in scoring the last two seasons and ranking among the top two in passing, the 1993 offense might not be as explosive, but it will still have the talent needed to vie for the title.

Senior tackle Joe Wyse leads the quintet of offensive linemen returning from a year ago which allowed just 18 sacks in 12 games while protecting Erik White well enough that he could lead the league in total offense for a second straight season while the Falcons were having their best season running the ball in 13 years.

Wyse, a first team All-MAC selection last season, is the most experienced of the returning players having started each of the last 25 BGSU contests.

Joining him on the line is fellow senior Matt Foley beside him at guard, sophomore Cal Bowers at center, and juniors Norman Hammoud and Jason Peters at the other guard and tackle positions, respectively. Bowers moved over to center in the third game last season because of an injury and performed very well.

The tight end spot might be the deepest on the team with senior Brad Long, a second team All-MAC pick last year, and junior Ryan McElroy both returning. Several younger players make this a deep position led by sophomore Walter Regula.

Senior offensive tackle Joe Wyse was a first team All-MAC pick last season and is the anchor of the offensive line.

Junior Ronnie Redd, who has led the team in average per reception each of the last two seasons and has a catch in each of the last 23 contests is the leading returning receiver. He is backed up by junior Charlie Williams.

The flanker position will be manned by junior Ramier Martin, who gained some valuable playing time last season as the back-up to Szlachcic. Duan'te Anderson is #2 at the position.

The quarterback position has some good depth with the emergence of freshman Derek Kidwell during the spring to go along with returning junior Randy Hecklinski.

Henry threw 18 passes in very limited action in three games last season, but fans got a glimpse of what he capable of doing in the Wisconsin game when he completed nine-of-17 passes for 119 yards and one touchdown in one quarter of action. He is the only returning quarterback who has game experience.

The backfield should be solid, if not spectacular, with the return of senior Zeb Jackson at tailback and sophomore Darius Card returning at fullback.

Jackson has a good chance to be BGSU's first 1,000-yard rusher since 1984 while he has also steadily improved his pass-catching skills. He led the team in rushing last season running for better than 100 yards in four contest, including the Las Vegas Bowl victory.

Card gained valuable experience last season as Smith's back-up even starting two games. The two are backed-up by sophomore Dwaylon Alexander, and freshman Bill DiOrio and Saul Harrison.

"I feel good about our situation at running back with Zeb Jackson

Offensive tackle Norman Hammoud (73) will again be opening the holes for tailback Zeb Jackson this season along with fullback Darius Card (40).

well supported and we have an established player to catch the ball in Ronnie Redd," Blackney said. "We'll need to take some pressure off the quarterback compared to the way it has been the last two seasons. We put the ball in White and Szlachcic's hands quite a bit expecting them to make plays. It will be a team effort this season with no one player carrying the bulk of the load."

- Defense -

Question marks abound in a unit that ranked fourth in the MAC in total defense last year and was fifth in scoring defense.

The unit should be strong up the middle with Dudley, at tackle, and Frazier, the nose guard, returning along with Palko, an inside linebacker. None of the other eight players who enter the fall #1 at their positions has started a game and most of them have very limited game experience.

Dudley was a second team all-league pick last season at end, but will move back inside to tackle this season to take advantage of his strength. Frazier had a good spring and is expected to combine with Dudley to give BG a strong duo in the trenches.

Palko, who has been overshadowed by senior teammates at inside linebacker the last two seasons, steps to the front this season after finishing second on the team in tackles the last two seasons. He has over 200 tackles the last two years.

The third defensive linemen in BG's 3-4 scheme is expected to be junior Curtis Collins with sophomore Chris Holbrook and freshman Dave Bruhowzki backing up.

Three red-shirt freshman are fighting it out to play alongside Palko with Doug Landon the leading candidate heading into the fall. Clyde Butler and James Kitchen are also vying for playing time.

The outside linebacking spots will be played by senior Lee Boyer and sophomore Jason Woullard. They are backed-up by three players who have little or no game experience. Boyer has seen limited playing time during his career while Woullard lettered last season as a "true" freshman.

The secondary will be four new faces, but one of those is familiar and has a great deal of game experience.

Junior George Johnson moves from tailback to one cornerback spot this season. Johnson led the 1990 team in rushing and last year was a back-up to Jackson rushing for almost 300 yards.

"Even though George does not have game experience in the secondary, he does have a lot of game experience at running back," Blackney said. "This should help him settle into the position as we build the secondary around him."

The other cornerback slot will be played by either senior Darnell Staten or sophomore Steve Ayers, both of whom played last year in reserve roles.

The safety spots will be played by sophomore Steve Rodriguez and red-shirt freshman Steve Hartley. Rodriguez earned some playing time last season as the back-up to starter Dave Bielinski at free safety.

- Special Teams -

The kicking game is in good hands as all four players who handled place-kicking and punting duties return.

Junior Brian Leaver missed only one field goal last season and earned the confidence of the coaching staff with his performance. Sophomore Derek Schoeje is likely to kick off again.

The same two players who shared the punting duties last season, junior Rob Donahue and sophomore Andy Tracy, will be in a battle for the spot.

Former quarterback Keith Creech takes over the long-snapping duties after the graduation of Chris Henwood, who had snapped the four previous years.

Junior Ronnie Redd is the leading returning receiver for the Falcons. He has caught a pass in 23 straight games over the last two seasons with 10 of his 51 receptions going for touchdowns.

Bernie Casey goes up and over during the key 1959 game which pitted #1 ranked Delaware against Bowling Green, ranked second in the nation. BG won the game, 30-8, and went on to compile the first perfect season in the program's history. Anderson Arena is being constructed in the background.

Fred Durig (1950-52) was one of the best running backs in the history of the program concluding his career with 2,564 yards, third-best on the BGSU career list. Durig averaged 5.7 yards per carry over his career, the top figure of any ball-carrier in school history. He was twice a first team All-Ohio selection.

One of the most significant wins in school history was the 1972 victory over Purdue by a 17-13 count. A fourth quarter field goal by freshman Don Taylor was the difference in the game. Photo above shows the Falcons stopping Purdue running back Otis Armstrong. Photo at right is head coach Don Nehlen being carried off the field as coaches and players celebrate the victory.

Mark Miller (left) was the first in a succession of quarterbacks that continues to this day which comprise the list of the top five passers in school history. Miller passed for almost 6,000 yards during his career (1974-77) ranking behind only Brian McClure (1982-85), Rich Dackin (1986-89) and Erik White (1989-92) in school history.

1964 Mid-American Conference Champions

Dave Preston (below) is the career rushing leader at BGSU with 3,423 yards which is seventh-best in MAC history. Preston also rushed for 39 touchdowns in his career with his 246 points also the top figure in school history. In 1974, he rushed for 1,414 yards and scored 19 touchdowns. He played eight years of professional football with the Denver Broncos of the NFL and the Denver Gold of the USFL.

Paul Miles (right) in action against rival Toledo. Miles is second on the BG career rushing list with 3,238 yards while he is also the only player to have his number (#29) retired. He was a three-time first team All-MAC selection and he rushed for 25 touchdowns in his career. At the time, he was only the third running back in NCAA history to rush for 1,000 or more yards in three consecutive seasons.

Mike Weger helped the Falcons capture back-to-back MAC titles in 1964 and 1965 as a half-back. He is one of only three players in school history to earn All-America honors from Associated Press. He was a third team selection in 1965. He went on to enjoy a nine-year career with the Detroit Lions, six of which he spent as the starter at safety.

For those who had a chance to attend the inaugural Las Vegas Bowl last season, they found it to be one of the best places in the country to hold such a game. And this year should be no different.

The 13th annual post-season football battle between the Mid-American Conference and Big West Conference champions is scheduled for Friday, Dec. 17, at 5 p.m. (PST) in the city they call the "Entertainment Capital of the World."

Las Vegas Bowl II, which will be held in UNLV's 32,000-seat Sam Boyd Silver Bowl, will again be televised to a national television audience by ESPN.

"This is an outstanding post-season opportunity for the Mid-American Conference football champion and all fans of the league," Karl Benson, MAC commissioner, said. "Las Vegas' exciting atmosphere provides a first-class setting, so players, coaches, and fans have a quality bowl experience."

Last season's meeting produced one of the most dramatic college football games of the year, as Bowling Green fought off a late Nevada rally to win the contest, 35-34.

On fourth-and-goal, Bowling Green quarterback Erik White threw a three-yard touchdown pass to split end Dave Hankins with 22 seconds remaining to lift the Falcons to the victory.

BGSU jumped out to a 28-3 halftime lead, but Nevada stormed back to take a 34-28 lead with 7:13 remaining behind the play of quarterback Chris Vargas, the MVP of the game.

The game was preceded by various Las Vegas Bowl activities, including a reception, luncheon, pep rally and tailgate party. There were also sightseeing tours, Las Vegas shows and several other special events, in addition to the other attractions the "City of Lights" offers.

The Las Vegas Bowl has become a source of pride for the state and community leaders, which accounts for the tremendous success the bowl experienced.

The driving force behind the bowl's emergence has been Las Vegas Events, the presenter of the bowl, and the Las Vegas Convention and Visitor's Authority, the sponsor of the bowl.

The leadership of these two groups and the cooperation of the University of Nevada Las Vegas have led to a strong "closed-end" bowl agreement that has produced positive results for all parties involved.

The Las Vegas Bowl and the Rose Bowl are the only post-season bowls that annually pit the champions of two Division I-A collegiate athletic conferences against one another.

The Riviera Hotel will once again serve as the headquarters of the Mid-American Conference and will be the site of several bowl-related events, including the kickoff luncheon, the pep rally and the post-game party.

The Riviera is extending special discounts to MAC fans, including a comprehensive package that includes lodging, dining and entertainment opportunities.

The first 11 meetings between the MAC and Big West came in the California Bowl in Fresno, Calif. The MAC has a 6-6 record against Big West opponents in the previous 12 bowl games.

Bowling Green's success on the field depends, in part, on how hard the Falcons work away from the field during the off-season. So, during the winter, spring and summer, the BGSU Athletic Fitness Center has become a second "home" for members of the Falcon football team.

The 5,800-square foot facility is located on the west side of Doyt L. Perry Stadium. Since its opening in 1988, the fitness center has helped the Falcons reach their potential for strength and conditioning.

The facility offers everything from free weights and nautilus equipment to an open mat area for general fitness and agility exercises. Office space, restrooms and lockers are also available.

Brian McClure came to Bowling Green as a highly-recruited player in 1982 and left BGSU in 1985 with just about every passing record as well as several MAC marks. He completed his career passing for 10,280 yards, which still ranks fifth on the all-time NCAA list. He is the holder of 21 school records and 17 MAC marks. His career passing yardage total is more than 3,000 yards better than any player in league history while he is one of only two players (BG's Erik White is the other) to earn league MVP honors twice. McClure led both the 1982 and 1985 teams to MAC titles and bowl berths while in his other two seasons the Falcons finished as the runner-up in the conference. McClure led the Falcons to a 34-12 record during his four years losing only one of 20 home contests.

Back-to-back MAC titles in 1991 (left) and 1992 included 16 straight league wins tying the conference record.

Cris Shale

Punter Cris Shale became the most decorated player ever at BGSU in 1990 earning a spot on five All-America teams while establishing four MAC records, including season (46.77) and career (43.09) average. For being selected to the Associated Press All-America team, Shale was invited to Ft. Lauderdale, Florida for the taping of the Bob Hope Christmas Show (photo at left), which annually presents the AP team as one of the segments on the show. Shale, a 10th round pick of the Washington Redskins in 1991, led the nation in punting in 1990.

Alma Mater

Alma Mater hear us,
As we praise thy name
Make us worthy sons and daughters
Adding to thy fame.

Time will treat you kindly
Years from now you'll be
Ever dearer in our hearts,
Our University.

From your halls of ivy
To the campus scene,
Chimes ring out with gladness
From our dear Bowling Green.

When all is just a mem'ry
Of the by-gone days,
Hear our hymn dear Alma Mater
As thy name we praise.

Retired Jersey

The only football jersey ever retired at Bowling Green is #29. It was worn by Paul Miles from 1971-73. Miles rushed for 3,239 yards and 25 touchdowns in his career and was a three-time first team All-MAC selection. He was just the third back in NCAA history to rush for 1,000 or more yards in three consecutive seasons.

Ay Ziggy Zoomba is Bowling Green's unofficial fight song (the official fight song is "Forward Falcons"). No one knows who wrote "Ay Ziggy Zoomba," but it became famous nationally when former Falcon All-American and Detroit Lion All-Pro halfback Mike Weger sang it in the film "Paper Lion." The Falcon football team traditionally sings "Ay Ziggy Zoomba" after each victory.

Why Orange and Brown

Burnt orange and seal brown have been the school colors at Bowling Green State University since 1914, the first year of classes. Legend has it that Leon Winslow, an industrial arts faculty member, got the idea from watching a women's hat on a bus to nearby Toledo, Ohio. He liked the brown and orange color combination. So, too, did former Cleveland Browns' head coach Paul Brown. Following a trip to BGSU in the 1940s, Brown used the colors for his All-America Conference team.

Frieda & Freddie Falcon

Frieda and Freddie Falcon are the official mascots of the Bowling Green Falcons. Together with the BGSU cheerleaders, Frieda and Freddie boost spirit at intercollegiate athletic events. Tryouts are held each spring, and winners remain anonymous to the student body until each is beheaded at the last home basketball and hockey game. The Freddie Falcon tradition began in 1950 while Frieda Falcon was added for the 1979-80 athletic year.

Why The Falcons?

The 1992 season marks the 65th anniversary of Bowling Green's nickname, Falcons. Before 1927, BG teams were called the Normals or Teachers. Ivan Lake '23 suggested the nickname, Falcons, after reading an article on falconry. Lake, managing editor and sports editor of the Sentinel Tribune in Bowling Green at the time, proposed the name change because it fit headline space and because falcons were "the most powerful bird for their size and often attacked birds two or three times their size."

Peace Pipe Award

The Peace Pipe is a traveling award that goes to the winner of the annual gridiron battle between Bowling Green and Toledo. The Peace Pipe tradition actually began on the basketball court during the 1947-48 season. At that time, the teams exchanged a six-foot long wooden peace pipe. The original basketball Peace Pipe disappeared, so, in 1980, the Peace Pipe was reinstated for football. Today's Peace Pipe is a smaller version of the original pipe, resting atop a trophy that displays the score of each football meeting since 1980. BGSU won last year's contest and will take a 31-22-4 series edge into the Oct. 2 game this season.

Anniversary Award

The Anniversary Award is a traveling award that goes to the winner of the football game between Bowling Green and Kent. Established in 1985 by the respective alumni departments at BGSU and Kent, the Anniversary Award commemorates the founding of BGSU and Kent in the year 1910. BGSU won last year's contest and leads the all-time series with its "sister school," 42-13-6. BGSU and Kent square-off on Nov. 6 this season. Kent, which has been BG's opponent in more football games than any other opponent, has won the award only once (1988) in the last seven years.

Building upon the inherent strengths of the University's faculty and its academic programs, Dr. Paul J. Olscamp in his 11 years as Bowling Green's president has charted a course that has moved Bowling Green into the ranks of the country's most important colleges and universities. The effort focused on teaching, research and service and involved a University-wide commitment to excellence.

He adopted the slogan "An Environment for Excellence," a clear indication of the vision he had for Bowling Green.

Early in his administration, Olscamp and the faculty outlined the task ahead in a 27-goal document called the Role and Mission Statement. Most of the goals centered on improving the quality of incoming undergraduate and graduate students; academic programs; learning resources, particularly computing and the library; and the faculty development, including recruitment of minority faculty.

Now, as Olscamp begins his 12th year at Bowling Green, many of those original goals have been met and new priorities have been established, including additional scholarships for academically gifted students, strengthening the graduate program, creating international education opportunities for students, and further enhancement of the University's endowment.

One of his most important accomplishments has been to fully involve the faculty in University governance. Faculty have a key role in developing the annual budget and share authority with the president in interpreting the University's Academic Charter. The faculty also have greater control over the curriculum and development of new academic programs.

While always a concern, finances have taken center stage in recent years. With a tightening state budget, Olscamp has directed efforts to increase private giving. In 1992-93, private giving topped $4 million for the second straight year. During his tenure, the school's endowment has increased to nearly $44 million from $1.9 million when he arrived.

Olscamp brings a personal touch to his presidency. He frequently hosts both students and faculty at his home. He also holds periodic forums with students wanting to discuss campus issues.

A great deal has happened at Bowling Green since 1982. Here are some of the highlights:

Academic Programs

- * Creation of Bowling Green's first endowed professorships, in management, finance, chemistry and philosophy.

- * Development of the Center for Photochemical Sciences, the only one of its kind in the country. Photochemistry is a multibillion dollar growth industry and some key research for that industry is being conducted at Bowling Green.

Paul J. Olscamp

- * Development of the Center for Quality, Measurement and Automation, the only center of its kind in the state designed to assist manufacturing and other businesses in the design and production of products.

- * The appointments of three Ohio Eminent Scholars in photochemical sciences, moral philosophy and industrial/organizational psychology; the positions are the result of three $500,000 grants from the Ohio Board of Regents.

- * The addition of doctoral programs in applied philosophy and photochemical sciences; the 13th and 14th Ph.D. offerings at BGSU.

- * More than 275 students are National Merit Scholars, one of the highest numbers on any campus in the country, over the last six years.

- * Establishment of the University's first major scholarships for minority students.

- * Creation of a network of computer labs throughout the campus, including labs in each residence hall. One survey has BGSU listed 35th in the country in the number of personal computers on campus.

- * Securing more than $5 million from the Board of Regent's Selective Excellence Programs, which are designed to attract top scholars, conduct pioneering research and develop centers of excellence. Grants have been awarded in both the sciences and the humanities.

- * Creating a Canadian studies program emphasizing Canada-U.S. trade relations and economic development in the northwest Ohio region.

- * Expansion of the library's holdings to more than four million items, including 1.7 million books, plus journals, periodicals, microforms, government documents and other materials. Also, the library is among the first to be part of OhioLink, which enables students access to all holdings at state universities, community colleges and selected private libraries in Ohio.

- * Development of the Student Telephone Accessed Registration system which enables students to schedule their classes from a touchtone telephone. The STAR system has made long registration lines a part of University history.

Physical Plant

- * More than $160 million has been spent in the past 11 years for the construction of new buildings and upgrading existing buildings.

- * Completion of the $7.2 million Physical Sciences Laboratory Building in 1984, a $3.65 million addition to the Business Administration Building in 1988, a $9.8 million Fine Arts Center and an $8.7 million field house.

- * Construction is now nearing completion on an $13.5 million classroom building.

- * Major renovation and refurbishing of existing campus buildings including Williams, Overman, Hayes and Shatzel halls, the Eppler complex and Founders Residence Hall. Construction of a $2 million office building to house faculty and staff temporarily displaced by renovation projects and later to be used for permanent offices.

University Finances

- * Creation of an internal endowment fund of $4 million from various University reserves. The balance is expected to reach $10 million in 1994. Interest on the $10 million principle will be used to supplement the academic budget.

- * Developing a plan to restructure debt service obligations which is projected to result in a $32 million principle in 10 years. Interest on that amount, which could exceed $2 million annually, will go toward the academic budget.

- * Completion of the most successful fund raising drive in University history. With the assistance of the development and alumni office, the 75th Anniversary Fund raised more than $15 million in three years; well above the $12.5 million goal. Donations included the University's first two $1 million gifts--from the Stranahan Foundation of Toledo for the Social Philosophy and Policy Center and from Harold and Helen McMaster of Perysburg for the McMaster Leadership Institute. In 1988 the Stranahan Foundation awarded a $3 million grant to the Social Philosophy and Policy Center.

- * Completion in 1993 of a $1.825 million Campaign for the Arts to benefit the theatre, music, art, dance and Arts Unlimited programs.

Since his appointment 12 years ago as director of athletics at Bowling Green State University, John C. (Jack) Gregory has set a standard of excellence designed to place Falcon men's and women's teams on equal terms with today's elite intercollegiate athletic programs.

To reach these goals, Gregory challenges his staff of administrators, coaches and classified personnel to settle for nothing less than the very best. His challenge has resulted in some of the finest moments in the history of intercollegiate athletics at BGSU:

- the 1984 NCAA Division I Ice Hockey Championship;
- 18 Mid-American Conference regular season championships in football, men's and women's basketball, softball, women's cross country, gymnastics, men's golf, and volleyball;
- three California Bowl appearances;
- one Las Vegas Bowl appearance;
- five MAC postseason tournament championships;
- three Central Collegiate Hockey Association regular season championships;
- one CCHA postseason tournament championship;
- 20 NCAA Tournament appearances in hockey, basketball, softball and gymnastics, including a 16 in the last seven years, the most of any MAC school;
- four home NCAA Tournament berths in hockey, softball and women's basketball;
- and the 1987-88, 1991-92, and 1992-93 Jacoby Trophies, awarded annually to the MAC school with the best overall record in women's sports.

Under Gregory's guidance, BGSU athletics has enjoyed two of its best years ever the last two seasons. Five league titles and postseason appearances by each of those five teams made the 1992-93 athletic year very special. And the women's program earned the Jacoby Trophy for the second straight season with BG the first school to win MAC titles in the three required sports.

All of that came on the heels of a 1991-92 season in which five teams set records for wins in a season, two earned postseason berths and the women's programs earned the Jacoby Trophy.

Some of the other highlights during Gregory's tenure include: postseason appearances by five BGSU teams in 1989-90 and 1990-91, back-to-back postseason appearances by the men's basketball program in 1989-90 and 1990-91 for the first time since the early 60s, and in 1989-90 Bowling Green was the only school in the country to send teams to national postseason tournaments in men's and women's basketball and hockey.

Gregory came to Bowling Green during one of the most difficult periods in the school's 73 years of intercollegiate athletics, a time when BGSU and the MAC were fighting for NCAA Division I-A status in football. Behind Gregory's leadership, the football program attained I-A status.

Record crowds have attended Falcon football, hockey and women's basketball games during Gregory's tenure. Soccer, volleyball, gymnastics and softball are drawing larger crowds, too.

Another "first" during Gregory's tenure occurred in the fall of 1990 when more than 25,000 fans turned out for the first night game in Perry Stadium history.

In 1983, 33,527 fans packed Perry Stadium to witness the Bowling Green-Toledo football clash, one of college football's best rivalries. BGSU and MAC single game attendance marks fell that afternoon. Two years later, the Falcons drew a record 112,110 fans for five home games, the third-largest average attendance (22,422) in MAC history. In 1992, Bowling Green set still another MAC attendance record by playing in front of 94,808 fans at Ohio State.

Sell-out crowds for BGSU hockey games are a tradition. In 1989-90, 1,700 seats were added to the BGSU Ice Arena, and all attendance records were broken, including game (5,005) and season (79,376) marks.

With the growing interest in TV sports programming, Gregory has aggressively negotiated for live television coverage of BGSU sports events. Last year, Falcon football, basketball and hockey all attracted live TV coverage. Falcon football and basketball will be aired as part of the MAC Game of the Week broadcasts, while Falcon hockey will continue to play in front of a national TV audience as part of the CCHA Game of the Week.

With the world of college athletics changing constantly, it is important for Gregory to be active on the national level. Gregory has served on the NCAA I-A Executive Committee, the I-A Television Committee, the Division I Ice Hockey Committee, and the Pro Sports Liaison Committee. He was also worked on numerous MAC and CCHA committees.

Gregory, 65, has also been instrumental in the development of the Falcon Club, the University's official athletic department booster club. Recent membership drives have encompassed all of northern and west central Ohio, resulting in unparalleled growth in cash and pledges. The Falcon Club has more than doubled its income and grown to such an extent that is compares favorably with any athletic support organization in the country.

Still, Gregory understands the integrity of college athletics depends on the continued emphasis of the "student" in student-athlete. In that regard, he appointed an academic coordinator in 1984, the first such appointment in the MAC.

Many BGSU student-athletes have excelled in the classroom. Volleyball's Linda Popovich became the MAC's first female to receive the NCAA's Byers Scholarship in May, 1990 while BG has had 21 Academic All-Americans in the last seven years.

A 1952 graduate of East Stroudsburg State College and holder of a master's degree from Temple University, Gregory and his wife, Peg, reside in Bowling Green. They are the parents of two sons and have two grandchildren.

In large measure, Bowling Green State University's success has centered on its ability to offer its students the educational diversity and excitement of a large university, while maintaining the caring and camaraderie of a small college.

That's a direct result of Bowling Green's research and teaching commitment, which attracts top scholars and graduate students and puts the University on the cutting edge of the development of exciting new knowledge, combined with a "We Care" attitude that students are introduced to when they first arrive on campus.

Bowling Green has nearly 1,000 full- and part-time faculty and 17,300 students on its main campus. Degree programs are offered through the colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business Administration, Education and Allied Professions, Health and Human Services, Musical Arts, Technology and the Graduate College. Within the undergraduate colleges are schools of Art, Mass Communication, Nursing and Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

In all, the University offers more than 170 undergraduate degree programs, 13 master's degrees in 69 fields of study and doctoral degrees in 14 departments with more than 60 specializations.

In addition to courses on the main campus, the University's Firelands College campus, located in Huron, Ohio, offers five associate degree programs, as well as courses which fulfill the first two years of a bachelor's degree requirement. Firelands enrollment tops 1,400 students.

Fully accredited at the highest state, regional and national levels, the University has chapters of most national academic honor societies, including Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi. Bowling Green is also a member of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges.

The University's faculty members, 78 percent of whom hold Ph.D.'s, include Fulbright Scholars, authors and nationally known researchers. The caliber of the faculty is reflected, too, in the number of academic programs which are regionally and nationally recognized. Also, faculty have been elected to high ranking positions in several national and regional professional organizations.

Three academic departments - chemistry, philosophy and psychology - are home to Ohio Eminent Scholars. The scholar program was created by the Ohio Board of Regents to attract world-class educators and researchers to the state's universities. Only two other Ohio universities - Ohio State and Cincinnati - have more of these prestigious positions than Bowling Green.

While committed to teaching, faculty are researchers as well, generating new knowledge through independent research and involvement in University units such as the Center for Photochemical Sciences, the Population and Society Research Center, the Mid-American Center for Contemporary Music, the Center for Quality, Measurement and Automation, the Canadian studies program, the Center for the Study of Popular Culture and the Social Philosophy and Policy Center.

Bowling Green is also the site of the National Drosophila Species Center and the Mid-America Stock Center - the largest scientific facilities of their kind in the world - where University faculty assist in supplying some 400 species of fruit flies to scientists involved in genetics and cancer research around the globe.

The University's students come from throughout the United States and nearly 60 foreign nations. While most students are between the ages of 18-22, the number of those older than 25 is increasing. Last year, more than 4,000 "non-traditional" students enrolled in undergraduate and graduate programs on a full- or part-time basis.

The focal point of the 1,338-acre campus is the nine-story Jerome Library, with its collection of more than four million items, including 1.7 million volumes plus journals, periodicals, microforms, government documents and other materials. Special sections of the library include the Center for Archival Collections which houses materials relevant to northwest Ohio history and the Sound Recording Archives with 600,000 recordings. The Institute for Great Lakes Research, located in Perrysburg, contains an extensive collection of materials on the shipping industry's past and present.

The University is continually improving its more than 100 existing buildings and upgrading facilities to meet current needs. Last fall, a $9.8 million addition to the Fine Arts Building was completed as well as the transformation of Hayes Hall into a computer center. Earlier this year, an $8.7 million field house for intramurals, physical education classes and intercollegiate sports was opened. A $15 million renovation of Founders Quadrangle was completed in August and has transformed the building into a state-of-the-art residence hall. Construction on a $13.5 million classroom building and a $9.5 million major renovation of Eppler Hall are currently underway.

In the last 11 years, more than $160 million has been allocated for new construction and remodeling projects.

The University has also accomplished its goal of making computers a vital part of each student's education. There are currently 19 computer labs, including one in every residence hall complex, for use by students. In addition, nearly a half dozen departments have created computer labs for their students. And, following a successful pilot program, student rooms in Chapman Hall are equipped with computers.

Today's college athletes face many challenges. Reaching his or her potential athletically, meeting academic requirements, maintaining a well-rounded personal life, and developing a set of values that will benefit each person throughout life are all of great importance to today's young athlete.

Working with 19 intercollegiate teams and some 500 athletes I witness many athletes "in action." In action in the weight room or on the court, at the library or in the biology lab, volunteering as a tutor or working a part-time job to help pay for school--these young men and women have made a commitment to success.

During the 1992-93 academic year Falcon athletes proved themselves worthy in meeting the academic rigors they faced. This was, by most accounts, one of the best academic years in recent history. The year concluded with our annual Academic Honors Luncheon where the department honored those 52 student-athletes who achieved a 3.5 grade point average or greater. This represented a 20-person increase over the prior year and the highest number ever honored. Additionally, our overall grade point averages, graduation rates, and number of regional and national academic award winners continues to be impressive. And from the other end of the scale, the number of student-athletes who lost athletic eligibility or were suspended from the university due to academic problems was at its lowest point in years.

Obviously, we are proud of our student-athletes and their individual academic successes. It makes the whole situation even more impressive when you combine such great academic success with one of the best years ever for athletic achievement. Our athletes have made that dual commitment of success in the classroom and in athletic competition. Each Falcon fan can be proud of past success and truly can look to the future for continued excitement and quality academic performance.

A Mid-American Conference record crowd of 33,527 attended the Toledo-Bowling Green game in 1983.

Doyt L. Perry Stadium, with its 30,599 seating capacity, is celebrating its 28th year as the home of Bowling Green State University football.

Built in 1966 for approximately $3 million as a replacement for the 43-year-old University Stadium, Perry Stadium had a capacity of 23,272 until bleacher seats were installed in both end zones in 1982.

One of the largest and most attractive athletic facilities in the Mid-American Conference, Perry Stadium holds the conference record for single-game attendance.

On October 8, 1983, a huge crowd of 33,527 packed into Perry Stadium for the annual Northwest Ohio rivalry between Bowling Green and Toledo, establishing a school and MAC record for single-game attendance. The Falcons went on to set a season record, breaking the six-digit figure for five games with a total draw of 100,021. It marked the first time in history that Bowling Green averaged more than 20,000 fans for five home football games.

That figure was topped in 1985, when Bowling Green posted a perfect record (11-0) in the regular season and clinched the MAC Championship by shutting out Toledo at Perry Stadium in November. More than 28,000 fans turned out that day, raising Bowling Green's season attendance to an all-time high 112,110, an average of 22,422.

A large crowd is expected for this year's battle with Toledo on Oct. 2 as the Falcons go after their 17th straight league win, which would be a record, in front of a Homecoming Day crowd.

Perry Stadium is more than just a football facility. The east side of the stadium includes dressing rooms, equipment and training rooms, along with the Athletic Department offices. The west side received a face-lift five years ago. A physical fitness center/weight room opened its doors for all 19 intercollegiate athletic teams in the summer of 1988.

Also situated on the west side of Perry

Field are the Falcon Club offices and clubhouse, the academic counselor's office, the track and cross country offices, as well as maintenance and storage areas.

Sitting atop the press box on the west side of the stadium is the plush Stadium Club. Now in its 14th year of operation, the Stadium Club's 106 theatre-type seats, which are all sold, provide loyal BGSU fans with a fine view of the game. The President's Box, located at the top of the east side of the stadium, provides luxury seating for President Paul J. Olscamp and other supporters of Falcon football.

Bowling Green won the first game ever played in Perry Stadium, defeating Dayton, 13-0, on October 1, 1966. Since that time, the Falcons have won over 66 percent of their home games, compiling an 86-42-5 record in the 133 games played at Perry Stadium. Over the last 11 seasons Bowling Green is 42-9-3 at home for a .806 winning percentage.

Perry Stadium is named in honor of the man who led Bowling Green to a 77-11-5 record in his 10 years as the head coach of the Falcons. Doyt L. Perry was simply one of the greatest football coaches of his day. His .855 winning percentage over 10 seasons in the 1950s and 1960s remains one of the highest in football history. In fact, Perry is fourth all-time behind Bob Reade (Augustana), Knute Rockne (Notre Dame) and Frank Leahy (Notre Dame) in winning percentage among coaches with at least 10 years of service on the collegiate level. Perry served as the BGSU athletic director for seven years after stepping down as football coach.
